FORT LAUDERDALE STATISTICS AND DEMOGRAPHIC DATA

Date of Incorporation: March 27, 1911

Date of Charter Adoption: 1957 and 1984 (Amended)

Form of City Government: Commission - Manager

Location: Fort Lauderdale is located in the east-central portion of Broward County, Florida approximately 23 miles north of Miami and 42 miles south of Palm Beach. The City shares boundaries with nine other municipalities, as well as unincorporated areas of the County. Encompassing more than 35.5 square miles with a population about 167,000, Fort Lauderdale is the seventh largest city in Florida and the largest of Broward County's 30 municipalities.

Recreation Facilities:

Acres of Public Parks	972.5
Parks/Facilities	85
Playgrounds	34
Pavilions	32
Picnic Areas	32
Waterfront Parks	27
Municipal Swimming Pools	8
Boats Slips, Moorings	200
Miles of Public Beach	5.3
Miles of Navigable Waterways	85
Seating Capacity: War Memorial Auditorium	2,110
Baseball Stadium	8,340
Lockhart Stadium	19,500
International Swimming Hall of Fame	2,330
Basketball Courts	52
Handball and Racquetball Courts	18
Shuffleboard Courts	10
Tennis Courts	63
Volleyball Courts	37
Soccer/Football Fields	19
Baseball/Softball Fields	43
Open Play Areas	30
Recreation Centers	19
Gymnasiums	2
Bike Trails	1
Jogging Trails	9
Nature Trails	1

GENERAL INFORMATION

Infrastructure:

Executive Airport	1
Helistop	1
City Buildings	112
Miles of Sidewalks	312
Miles of Streets	497
Miles of Sanitary Sewers	338
Miles of Storm Drainage	128
Miles of Water Mains	769
City Bridges	51
Storm & Wastewater Pumping Stations	149
Fire Stations	12
Fire Hydrants	5,167
City Maintained Parking Spaces	10,242
City Parking Garages	4
Cemeteries	3

Socioeconomic Data:

Average Household Size	2.78
Average Household Income	$37,887
Medium Family Income	$46,175